Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

Which apprenticeships are there?

Food Technology links to lots of apprenticeships because so many jobs in the food industry require the safe manufacturing of food and the smooth running of the production line. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Butcher or Chef, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Agriculture Manager, Crop Technician, Food and Drink Maintenance Engineer and Food Technologist?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Food Technology. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:
