Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

Which apprenticeships are there?

ICT links to lots of apprenticeships because so many job roles require an individual to interpret and evaluate data and to cope with the rapid changes of technology. Some of the more obvious job roles might be ICT Technician or Cyber Security Technologist, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Design, Digital Engineering, Intelligence Operations, Software Developer and Transport Planner?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to ICT. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:
